The Empowered Parent

Reclaim Control. Love Life. Thrive.

"Jane Lynn's guidance is meaningful and honest. By sharing information about her success and challenges helped me avoid speed bumps along my journey and not feel alone when things didn't go as planned." (Stefanie, Mom of 8-year old with autism)

"Autism is a label but Jane Lynn shows others how to see the ABLE. She will inspire you every time you cross her path or listen to her words." (Nicole, Special Ed Head Teacher)

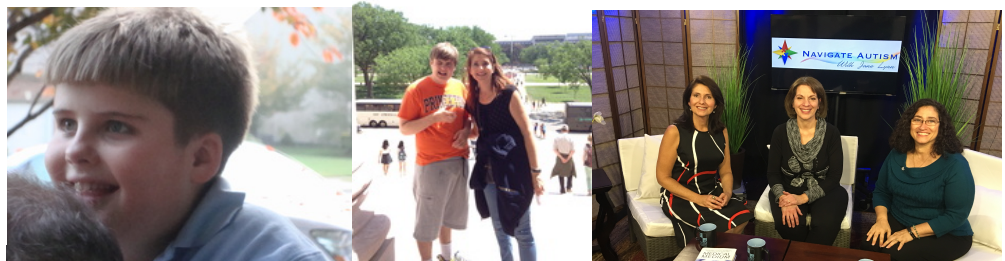

"Jane Lynn is simply a leader with compassion and depth of knowledge that people want to learn from and grow with." (Kris, former Head of HR for Godiva Chocolatier and Dollar Tree)

"The moment I heard the words 'Your son has autism', the spark of life vanished. I was lost and afraid. I looked to everyone else for answers. And even when I had a 'plan', I was overwhelmed, stressed and sad, because I didn't know how to truly help him...or myself. During 14 years of parenting autism and home schooling William, I have learned many things. The most important of all was how to reclaim my power and how to bring control and joy back into my life. The spark is back. And my family is thriving! As an HR Director for Factiva/Dow Jones, I trained thousands of people through challenging material to achieve breakthroughs. As a mom, I trained over 30 team members to take my son from deep inside his own world to being an outgoing teenager with friends, a job and a confirmed member of the church. As an Autism Parenting Coach, I partner with parents to help them reclaim control, inspire their kids to succeed, and to love their life!"

Schedule a Live or Web Event

In 1 hour, Jane Lynn shares her story and teaches how to reclaim your power as a parent of autism. Parents walk away with 3 simple yet transformational techniques that help them make changes today that create more clarity and control, freedom and joy, and that inspire their children to be more social and more successful at home and at school.
